PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The season just passed was indeed rewarding for the Club in the field. Three teams in grand finals. The Fourth Grade winning a pennant. The performance of the Shell Colts in going through the season undefeated, including winning their final. Individual performances such as Andrew McNish, a double century in the Fourth Grade Grand Final. Giles Bush winning the Swan Brewery Award for the bowling aggregate in "A" Grade. An unprecedented number of century makers in all grades. Fourth in the W.A.C.A. Club Championships.

But what about off the field and why did we do so well on the field? Might I start by saying your Committee for the year was one of the best, if not the best, that I have been associated with in the Club - and that goes back as far as 1959 with Subiaco. Planning commenced immediately after the Annual General Meeting in May 1983. The pre-season camp at the Lazy Crab was mooted, a video and bowling machine purchased. Craig Lubich was recruited from University Club and Glen Travers returned from South Perth. Terry Alderman was available for the early season games and it was with mixed feelings that we saw Terry overcome his injury and return to State and International cricket. Naturally we were all pleased for Terry and Jane. Kim Hughes was only available for the one game, but we were grateful for his contribution and advice pre-season. Congratulations to Kim on regaining the Australian captaincy. May his reign be long, despite recent efforts by the usual vocal minority.

Kim was instrumental in introducing Peter Carlstein to the Club. Peter is a former test cricketer for South Africa and has proved popular with all members of the Club. His "ton" in the final round of fixtures against Midland Guildford was a fitting reward for his determination. Dennis Franks was recruited to the Committee as a Vice President in charge of Administration, Finance and Sponsorship. Congratulations, Dennis, on a job well done. I see a future President in the making here. Alan Bolton and John Wade continued as Vice Presidents and handled their respective portfolios with aplomb. Believe-you-me, it is very helpful for a President to have such energetic Vice Presidents, Geoff Hann, Treasurer, Richard Tredget, Secretary, and Peter Williams, W.A.C.A. Delegate all handled their duties in a very capable way. Of the Committee Members, mention should be made of Bruce Klein, Social, and David McKay, Juniors. Both members will not be available for Committee duties next season and this will leave a gap in our ranks.

Club Captains

To the Fourth Grade Captains I extend my congratulations to a job well done. Peter "Plug" Jones improved as the season went on and fully accepted his responsibility as "A" Grade Captain. I am sure "Plug" will have benefited from the experience. Peter "Pana" did an excellent job with a young Second Grade Team that went within an ace of winning the Pennant. We need you aboard again next year "Pana". To Ross Bolton, commiserations on your loss by 12 runs in the final. A seasoned campaigner, Ross will be in there again next season, I am sure. What can I say about our Fourth Grade Captain. The determination of Alan was exemplified when he sent young John Gillam back on to the field in the Fourth Grade Semi-Final after Gillam had been felled by a bouncer. A drink of water was produced as the only solace for the young "Cowboy". "Get out there and get your heart muscle going" said Al. As Dennis Franks remarked later on, he thought that Alan was going to drink the water. Al was rewarded with a Fourth Grade Pennant. Two in a row - not bad.

The youngest Captain probably had the most satisfaction. Nine games, nine wins and a Shell Colts Flag! Congratulations to Glenn Mitchell in the way he handled his young team. They can look back on the year with the satisfaction that no other Colts team can better their record. You can only win all your games.

Juniors

During the season the Club took the opportunity to formalise the Junior Cricket body as a separate Committee with certain powers of their own. Frank Pelusey took the reins as Chairman of the Junior Committee and as a representative on the Senior Committee. Thanks Frank for your assistance in bringing the Junior Committee closer to the senior body. Waldo Turner was appointed Secretary of the Junior Committee and I thank Waldo for his fine efforts over a number of years.

Social

There is a separate social report, so I will not go into this aspect in detail. Suffice to say that the innovation of the white board (and its graffiti), the cabaret and wind up at the Bowling Club and the after game drinks were all very enjoyable and played a big part in club spirit. This team spirit was exemplified by the Fourth Grade team who, after winning their final at Fremantle journeyed all the way to Lilac Park to support the Third Grade in their efforts to win a flag.

Supporters

To our small band of supporters, I would like to thank each and every one of you for your attendance at matches at whatever grade you supported. May you return next season and bring along your friends. It can be seen from the results of the Colts that they benefited from the support given by families, friends and club supporters in general. I do not like to single out any one or two, but if there were a club award for the most consistent supporters it would have to go to Mr and Mrs Mitchell. Mention should also be made of "Big Bird" who broke down early in the season but was always at the matches, offering encouragement in his own inimitable way. All the club members hope that he is back on the field next year.

Afternoon Teas

Thanks to all. The roster worked smoothly and I can't remember when one lady didn't turn up or not arrange a substitute. Truly a magnificent effort by all the ladies in the club. It has been suggested that the ladies might like to form a sub-committee within the framework of the Club.

Future

We are a young club. By that I mean our players are young. I have heard it said that the youth of today are our leaders of tomorrow. In our case, they are the leaders and players of today. The experience gained by having four teams in W.A.C.A. finals will toughen these youngsters for the coming season. We have a nice blend of senior players in all grades. We did well this season, but this must be our bottom line for next season. Every member - on and off the field - must aim to raise the Club's banner even higher next year. To the young players I ask for a full commitment to off season training and to club practice when the season gets under way. You won't improve your cricket if you expect to get your practice on Saturday out in the middle. It just doesn't work.

SUBIACO-FLOREAT CRICKET CLUB/FUNDING REPORT

Financially, the Committee believes that the Club achieved satisfactory results for the year. Apart from a handful of players, who continue to involve the Committee in negative and wasteful internal pursuit of players' subscriptions, fundraising from other areas permitted the Club to invest in new assets and institute new ideas.

1983/84 Season - Achievements

The season began with the first ever pre-season training camp for the "A" Grade squad, which on all accounts proved to be highly successful. This, of course, required funding by the Club, however, the Committee was of the opinion that the expenditure involved was well worth the results achieved.

The Committee also decided to invest in coaching aids and as a consequence of this decision a bowling machine was purchased and installed for the use of players. A donation of $500 towards this project was kindly made by Kimberley N.Z.I. Finance Ltd.

It was also decided to invest in a video camera, recorder and colour t.v. set, not only as coaching aids, but also as a means of providing entertainment for the Club membership. Valuable assistance in the purchase of this equipment was provided by Lester Barnes, through his association with Ramsey's, the electrical retailers in Subiaco.

As a result of these purchases, the Club applied for, and received, an equipment grant from the Department of Youth Sport and Recreation, amounting to $1,300. This was an unexpected bonus, however, the Committee will be looking to take full advantage of the Department's financial assistance for future development projects.

Harold Christensen, a partner in the stockbroking firm of R.M. Black & Associates, kindly donated $500 towards the provision of subsidised track suits for the "A" Grade cricket squad. The intention being to present the players as a uniform and cohesive representation of the Club, not only at "A" Grade games, but also at training sessions.

This year the Club was also successful in gaining Brownes Dairy through the promotion of their Brownes Lite Chocmilk, to sponsor the junior coaching clinic, which from all accounts proved to be most satisfactory. Congratulations must be extended to David Shilbury and David McKay, for their efforts in organising the coaching clinic.

Once again, Town and Country W.A. Building Society supported the Club by agreeing to sponsor the construction of the mobile notice board that now not only graces our premises, but near enough occupies the entire pavillion! The Committee feels that this is a valuable and useful addition to the Club's facilities. A sincere thank you to the Town and Country W.A. Building Society.

For several years now the La Cassetta Restaurant in Cambridge Street, Wembley, has provided the "A" Grade Player of the Match Awards, representing meal vouchers. This year they were joined by the Fairway Tavern, who also made available meal vouchers. These are very popular prizes and the Committee looks forward to maintaining the Club's strong association with these sponsors.

Despite some players being extremely slow in returning proceeds from the sale of the chocolates, the Committee was pleased with the chocolates as a fundraising medium, as total sales produced a profit of $416 for the Club.

During the year, the Club also entered into the computer age, by having all its playing and non-playing members mailing lists computerised, which now enables more numerous and faster circularisation of the Club's membership for the distribution of the Club Newsletter, notices of social events and any other material that may be required to be posted.

The Future

One of the difficulties in providing adequate funds for the successful running of a cricket club is in finding sufficient social, non-playing members.

In the past season an effort was made to offer more benefits to the non-playing membership via the Businessmen's Club, as an alternative to offering just non-playing membership. The Businessmen's Club membership extended several benefits over and above non-playing membership, the major benefit being a discount of 10% on all meals and drinks at the Red Castle Motor Hotel, through utilisation of their two restaurants.

Although the Club was not inundated with membership, applications that were received were pleasing.

The Committee is acutely aware that unless the Club can provide suitable social facilities, then the prospect of achieving a high level of non-playing membership will be difficult.

The Committee has initiated action with a view to improving social facilities during the past season and has earmarked the 1984/85 year as a year for achieving tangible improvements in this area. This will not be an easy task as it will require considerable funds and as such there will be a need for both playing and non-playing members to support the Club more fully in its fundraising activities next season. The membership of a club can only expect to take from it what it is prepared to put back.

The task of fund raising next season will be all that more difficult due to the loss of the valuable sponsorship that the Club has enjoyed from Griffin Coal over the past couple of years. Due to a change of control in the ownership of this company, they have advised that they will be no longer looking to sponsor the Club and its activities.

Our sincere thank you for their past support.

Finally both the playing and non-playing membership of the Club must develop an awareness of the difficulties associated with funding a successful sporting body.

The Club is virtually a small business with an annual turnover of funds exceeding $23,000 during the last season.

This money does not appear from nowhere, but comes about as a result of some hard work carried out by a few people. If the Club membership wants better playing and social facilities, then every member is going to have to contribute some effort and assistance in future fund raising programmes.

SOCIAL REPORT

Season 1983/84 has been the Club's most successful for several years, both on and off the field. With three out of four teams reaching the grand final we've shown we can do it on the field. But perhaps even more fundamental to the Club's future success, the players this season have shown we can enjoy ourselves together as a club, off the field as well.

The social side of the season began two weeks before the first fixture, in the form of a training camp at the Lazy Crab. What was at first predicted to be two days of enforced physical training akin to a Colditz concentration camp, it began more like a triple 'P' night at the Maylands football club. No frills entertainment was provided courtesy of 'naughty' Jefferson Starship Hicks and our perverted Treasurer, Geoffrey Hann Esq. Poor president Ron couldn't keep the attention of the lads while they had their minds on Desiree! However, the President showed no mercy the next morning when the boys were awoken at 6.30 sharp to face a six kilometre run followed by exercises and net practice. The rest of the camp lived up to our first expectations and we certainly came back a little fitter and fresh to start the season off.

Kimberly John Hughes led the way at our first barby for the season, entertaining the crowd as he has done so often, but this time it wasn't with the bat. Hughesy and the rest of us were in high spirits as we celebrated a good start to the season. Another early season social event to be well attended was the 'Night at the Trots'. Although there weren't many noted gamblers amongst them (excepting Muls) most people tried their luck and enjoyed the night as being something pleasantly different. The premises for the christmas barby were kindly donated by Wayne 'Jeffo' Hicks, which was appreciated by all the 'merry' people there.

In January club members were introduced to the inaugural Veterans Challenge Cup. After several allegations as to the pace (or lack thereof) of certain players in the Club, it was decided to put these issues to the test. And so the first official race-offs were conducted at Floreat Oval in front of a bemused crowd on the banks. Who can forget the sight of 'Sir Schultz' Shilbury waving the white flag upon his realisation that he couldn't catch W.G. Carlstein! Perhaps the most surprising victory came from the 38 year old Peter Panegyres, who gave a few years to his opponents (Reg and Staf), but he hit the tape comfortably in front of both of them.

After much advertising and pleading for people to come along to the La Cassetta Restaurant night, we finally managed to scrape up thirty people. The difficulty in getting numbers was due to the $13.50 price tag, which although very reasonable for the meal, was probably too high for a club social function. The night was highlighted by the number of "A" Graders, who came along with their friends; (nine out of the team).

Next on the agenda was the much publicised 'Silly Hats' Cabaret. I suppose I may be biased in saying that this was the most successful show of the year. Barring the trophy night it was the best attended and it certainly had the most atmosphere. Congratulations to Alan Bolton for winning the prize for the silliest hat. Commiserations to Glen Travers, who wore a truly silly hat, which was only narrowly bettered by Bolts. Alan would like to thank Joanne for making his hat.

One of the few disappointments of the entire social calendar was the lack of support for the Fairway Tavern night. Those who missed it, however, are the real losers, because it proved to be a very eventful evening.

After watching our normally tea-totalling second grade captain knock back several beers as well as a few oozos, a group of us headed towards Perth's newest nightclub, 'Boltovens', where they play all your favourites like E.L.O., Neil Diamond, and even Marsha Hines! 'Boltovens' also has a great bar, which was serving drinks free for its opening night. Sadly, however, we believe 'Boltovens' was closed down due to lack of stock.

The season finished off with two excellent shows. Firstly, the grand final barby (again at Bolt's place), which was highlighted by some joyous fourth graders who celebrated their premiership win. After a few drinks even the losing second and third graders joined in on the fourth's celebrations, which typified the spirit within the Club this season. Finally, the season ended on a highly successful note with 120 people turning up to the trophy night at the Bowling Club. This was twice as many people as last year. Hopefully this trend will continue into next season and the Club will enjoy further success both on and off the field in 1984/85.

Catch ya next season folks!

COACHES REPORT

At the end of my two year stint as Club Coach I look forward to following Subiaco-Floreat's progress in future seasons, knowing that we have a crop of youngsters that would be the envy of any of Perth's other district clubs.

The first grade, despite losing nine of their last Swan Gold Eleven from the previous season, were nevertheless, to their great credit, able to maintain a most competitive team and apart from one game during the season made the opposition fight for every point.

I don't like to select individuals, but the W.A.C.A. First Grade figures will show Giles Bush's and Steve Mulhall's excellent seasons in their true perspective.

These two, along with Geoff Hann's success in his first full First Grade season and improved performances next year from Glen Travers and Craig Lubich, who undoubtedly have more ability than they showed this season, should provide the strong nucleus to allow the younger players to settle in to the top grade.

Peter Carlstein and Steve Nielsen, both in the same eleven, despite almost three decades difference in age, show that true talent will win, despite the age.

The seconds, thirds and fourths showed what a wealth of talent there is in the Club and having three teams in a final in one season is a performance rarely bettered in the W.A.C.A. competition.

In each team there are players who are going to command places in higher teams next season and this will ensure a bright future for the Club, when each spot is being contested by more than one player.

The Fourth Grade and Colts must be congratulated on winning their respective premierships and there is certainly no disgrace in losing a final (if only we'd caught a few more catches!) as there are a lot of teams in each grade who don't make it.

If the Committee are able to keep the improved condition of the wickets and centre square at Floreat at the level of this season or better, then our batsmen will continue to make centuries and the Club will re-emerge as a power in the First Grade and still hold their high position in the other grades.

Good luck for the future.

TERRY MACGILL
COACH 1982/83 & 1983/84

1ST GRADE REPORT

If one was not to look closely at the statistics of the season, I'm sure that most people, as I do, would consider that the season was far from a disappointing one. There were a number of reasons for arriving at this conclusion - reasons that augur well for the steady improvement in the first team, making it a competitive final four prospect for a number of seasons.

The season commenced with a team that was obviously very strong, comprising State squad members Kim Hughes, Terry Alderman and Brian Raven, as well as very experienced players in Travers, Mulhall, Hann, Jones, Lubich. One person not in that first team was to prove a match winner and a player of obvious first class ability.

Well, the above team was not to be maintained throughout the season. Terry Alderman made a successful return to first class cricket; Brian Raven discontinued playing with a recurring back injury, Brad Parker and Wayne Hicks withdrew for a period of time. Hence it was necessary to introduce players who had either not played "A" Grade or players with only a few games - and I believe this was our greatest success. All players, with the exception of one, were young and the elder statesman of the team in the last game of the season provided one of the best batting displays I have seen whilst playing "A" Grade.

I suppose it is necessary to cut the Hitchcock stuff and name these players who combined to make an enjoyable 1983/84 season.

My congratulations go to Giles Bush who, after missing the first game of the season, captured the highest aggregate of wickets, provided encouragement and moved with speed and gusto in the field. Giles took 54 wickets at a brilliant average of 16.92, having bowled 353.5 overs. Many of these wickets were upper order batsmen, which lends support to Giles being a bowler of class.

Steve Mulhall also gave an exceptional performance throughout the season. Always having the ability to place the game in our favour off his own bat, I consider that this particular success eluded him previously, due to impetuosity and an over flamboyance in stroke play. Steve's best innings was a 77 against Fremantle, which included 39 singles. Steve concluded the season with 675 runs at the very good average of 47.

Our opening positions were always difficult to fill - only one player had success, Geoff Hann. Geoff scored 456 runs at 30.40, which included one of the few centuries of the season, 109 against Perth. His fielding proved valuable in a team that was not endowed with many nimble movers. I have one criticism - that I did not use Geoff more as a bowler.

A new player to Subi-Floreat this season was Craig Lubich - a confident, garrulous person. Craig bowled tirelessly from one end on many occasions - the final game of the season being pertinent - bowling about 38 overs and capturing 7 wickets. Craig would probably agree with me that he did not realise his potential with the bat, however, his contribution in the season was noteworthy.

The 1983/84 season saw the emergence of some fine young cricketers, in John Hurst, without doubt one of the keenest cricketers (and worst dressed, with a weird sense of humour) I have seen for some seasons. Steve Nielsen also fits the above category. Steve took on the task of opening bowler with a desire to learn and to play "A" Grade for many seasons, and I am sure he will.

Greg Fitzgerald gradually displayed the potential he possesses and with another season should develop greater confidence and aggression in his game. Steve Wright has a lot of ability and sadly it has taken him a couple of seasons longer than many people thought it would for him to be a good "A" Grade cricketer.

The elder statesman mentioned earlier is Peter Carlstein. Peter played the last three games of the season. His century (101) against Midland-Guildford was a delight to watch and an education for all. I thank Peter for the many conversations that gave me advice and confidence.

I complete my report in thanking all players, the Committee, the women who assisted with afternoon tea, and a very special thank you to Graham Lees.

PETER JONES

2ND GRADE REPORT

It would be remiss to confine this report to a statistical analysis of the season. For this would only disclose that we won 10 games, finished in second spot, convincingly won the semi-final and squandered several chances in losing the final to North Perth. Further examination would show that we used 24 batsmen during the season while 17 players were called upon to bowl.

In reality the players' performances reflected a true desire to play for the side and the resultant team spirit was the real reason for our on field success.

Our "game plan" was simple - bat 95 overs and bowl line and length with adequate support from our fielders. In pursuing this plan many players distinguished themselves. For instance, Andrew Milne's five hours at the crease to score a match winning 61 in the semi-final against Midland and Brad Parker's 5/58 in the same game are excellent examples of performances which occurred throughout the season by different players.

In conclusion, I would like to thank all players for their efforts during the season.

3RD GRADE REPORT

After finishing third on the premiership table, the 3rd Grade side lost the Grand Final by only 12 runs in a disappointing conclusion to the season.

The Grand Final was played against Midland-Guildford, at their home ground, and after setting a target of 235 to reach, Subiaco-Floreat were dismissed for 223 with only 8 balls remaining, in a match that was a closely fought affair throughout, played in excellent spirit by both sides. The home ground 'advantage' is a strong topic of debate and should be taken up strongly with the W.A.C.A.

Although missing out on the flag, the side performed with the utmost of distinction throughout the year and proved a formidable combination. A good blend of experience and youth were the main ingredients for success with Harold Christensen, Peter Williams, Ross Bolton and Phil Sanders providing the experience for most of the year with Wayne Hicks, Murray Raven, Anthony Mazza and Glen Mitchell adding a touch of class in the final rounds. Young players such as David Reed, Paul Osborne, Graham Sanders, Vince Rule and Duncan McNish played significant parts in the sides performance. A number of young players, including Vince Rule and Duncan McNish along with Andrew Milne and Andrew Lowson, were promoted to the 2nds during the year and played in the 2nds finals.

The brunt of the bowling during the season was carried by Peter Williams (32 wickets) Harold Christensen (17 wickets) and Paul Osborne (22 wickets) with Murray Raven and Glen Mitchell contributing significantly later in the season.

A number of players had excellent seasons with the bat, David Reed (536 runs at 41.23) Ross Bolton (514 runs at 32.13) Vince Rule (258 runs at 25.80) assisted by consistent performances from Peter Williams and Phil Sanders. Anthony Mazza (203 runs at 40.60) Wayne Hicks (186 runs at 31.00) and Andrew Milne (171 runs at 42.75) played a significant part in their limited number of 3rd Grade games.

David Reed's performances with the bat deserve special recognition. 536 runs in a season for a 17 year old shows a tremendous potential for future promotion to "A" Grade ranks. Vince Rules improved batting this year, as well as his wicket keeping, was rewarded with a promotion to 2nd Grade, where he again performed well. Along with the other younger players already mentioned, the Club has a number of potential "A" Grade players in the making and the future of the Club appears to be in good hands.

As Captain of the 3rd Grade side, I would like to express a special vote of thanks to Harold Christensen and Peter Williams (who unfortunately missed the Grand Final) for their support and advice during the season. Their experience and attitude during the year assisted in the development of the younger players as well as in the team's overall performance.

ROSS BOLTON

4TH GRADE REPORT

After finishing third in the qualifying games the Fourth Grade team won an exciting Semi-Final and then won the Grand Final by 248 runs.

In the Grand Final we dismissed Southern Districts for 89 runs and then amassed 337 runs with Andrew McNish smashing 209 runs, a truly magnificent innings. There is no doubt this player has the ability to play "A" Grade cricket and our Club will endeavour to encourage and coach Andrew to achieve "A" Grade status, but Andrew will have to make up his own mind to put in the time and effort required to achieve playing "A" Grade cricket.

The team again this year was young, however, Reg Statham provided Captain Alan Bolton with the necessary experience and encouragement to the younger players. During the season Reg Statham did not make many runs, but when it counted in the finals Reg was almost unremovable making 76 not out in the first Semi and 38 in the Grand Final.

Consistent batting, tight bowling and good fielding will always bring teams success. Consistent batsmen were Drew McDonald, who scored two centuries, Paul Craven, only 16 years old, who scored one hundred and will develop into a fine allrounder, Reg Statham, John Fitzgerald, Andrew McNish, Peter Traianou (the wicketkeeper) and Graham Sanders.

The bowling throughout the year was good with Steve Allen, John Gillam and Ian McCrann providing the pace and aggression. They were well supported by Wayne Davies, who bowled tirelessly into the wind, Paul Craven and Greg Catlin. The spin was shared by Duncan McNish, who ended up playing in the seconds Grand Final, John Fitzgerald, Brian Raven and Alan Bolton. Peter Traianou proved a capable wicket keeper/batsman.

Special thanks for Brian Raven's contribution to the team. Brian hurt his back, which prevented him from bowling fast in "A" Grade cricket and then played in the fourths as a batsman and spinner until told by the Doctor he could no longer continue to play this season.

Our fielding again this year contributed to many wins and undoubtedly it was the main reason why we won this year's Final.

ALAN BOLTON

JUNIORS REPORT

The three teams this year did a tremendous job and without exception were a credit to the Club. In addition, the results were satisfying with both district teams making the Finals. The Club is most grateful to Messrs Joe Lloyd, Stewart Lloyd (U 16 D Manager and Scorer), Greg Catlin (U 16 Z Coach), John Nice and P. Hampton (Under 14 D Coach and Manager) for their help and assistance during the season. Without your help and enthusiasm for the game no junior team could ever be fielded, Clubs just cannot run without your help and we are extremely grateful. We are also very grateful to Terry MacGill and Peter Carlstein for their help and guidance during the year.

R. TREDGET (Hon Sec)

Under 16 District

This year we were able to field a very steady team and with the exception of one game only 13 players were ever used. The team's general attitude and responsibility to the other players and Club was first class and the team must most certainly be commended for their efforts and sportsmanship.

Sean Lohoar proved to be an excellent choice as Captain, his enthusiasm and complete dedication to the cause was a credit to him. His all round performance with the ball, bat and fielding was a joy to watch.

The Club was most fortunate in recruiting, due to boundary changes, two very fine players in Michael Lloyd an opening bat who performed better as the season progressed and a leg spinner in Warren Joachim, who won our bowling prize and bowled with great accuracy during the season.

We had two excellent wicket keepers in Peter Burse and Craig Emslie. No club could boast this fact, as wicket keepers are very hard to come by and we had two of the very best, and they could both bat. Our batsmen all came good at sometime or other; we did have some difficulty in finding a partner for Michael Lloyd, but by mid season settled for Robert Hall who filled the gap admirably.

Of our others Ian Tredget, Graham Barter, Tim Lanigan and Richard Toovey all produced the goods at one time or another, whilst Antony Flynn was the most outstanding.

There was also a welcome return to cricket by Paul Power, a left arm seam bowler, who performed excellently and I am sure when his weight increases so will his speed, but he proved a most suitable opening partner for Sean. Richard Catlin in his first year of Under 16 also proved to be an excellent left arm seamer and I feel sure he will be a great asset in the District side next year.

I felt had luck been on our side, we might have won a competition, but all credit must be given to the boys for the matches they lost by so small a margin; Wanneroo and Fremantle the eventual winners.

It has been a great season and we look forward to seeing you all make the Senior Grades next year.

RICHARD TREDGET

JUNIOR COUNCIL REPORT

The recently completed season saw some thirty teams contest this year's club competition in U/12 and U/14 age group. The results were as follows:-

U/12 A Floreat Pk	def	Kapinara
B Floreat Pk I	def	Floreat Pk II
U/14 Maroon Wembley Downs	def	Mari st Blue
Gold Subiaco Police Boys	def	Hale

Unfortunately the U/16 competition failed to materialise due to lack of teams, there being only three nominations - one less than last year. Two clubs managed to place their sides in outside fixtures, whilst the third played a number of scratch matches throughout the metropolitan area. This occurrence was the most unfortunate aspect of the 83/84 juniors season.

Representatives of each of the nine participating clubs met early in the season and recommended the formation of a formal Junior Council to control the affairs of under age club cricket within Subiaco Floreat area. The Management Committee ratified the proposal and guide lines were set. I believe this will solve many of the problems experienced at this level of cricket. There is little value in dwelling on problems of the past, other than to use the experience to set goals for the future.

The essential aim of the council is the organisation of junior cricket within our boundaries. The group is responsible for determining rules of play, arranging fixtures and grounds, accepting nominations and collecting application fees. The group autonomy allows for the formation of budgets and its own financial administration. In the event of any protest or dispute, the council will provide a resolution. Finally responsibility for fielding teams in the little league and shield competitions will be arranged by a committee of the Junior Council.

One delegate from each participating club provide the membership of the council together with a delegate from the Management Committee. From these numbers are elected a Chairman, Vice Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer. At present, Mr W. Turner has been co-opted to fill the role of Secretary giving a total number of eleven. Sub Committees have been structured with various responsibilities in order to gain full participation of members.

I am pleased to say the support shown by the Club for the council's plans has been unanimous and I am sure will lead to a smooth and expanded competition in 1984/85.

COLTS REPORT

"THE SEASON THAT WAS"

Congratulations, we actually did it. We achieved what we set out to do, the "IMPOSSIBLE DREAM" of winning the 1983/84 Colts premiership. At the beginning of the season we had a team on paper which few people would have given any chance of taking the pennant. We may not have had the talent, natural ability or the stars that some of our opposing teams possessed, but we had one thing that far outreached any of those qualities: COMRADESHIP and PRIDE.

From the very first match in October to the final in March, we approached each match as a team, not as a band of individuals, as was the case with some of the teams we came up against. In almost every game we played, we often found ourselves with our backs to the wall, yet not once did any of us ever drop our head or throw in the towel. If anything, we lifted ourselves higher in the bad times by talking and constantly encouraging each other. We won two games by one wicket, one by two runs and one by a single run, which shows clearly our performances under pressure.

This spirit was particularly evident in the final. In the last few overs victory looked impossible and no doubt many of us thought so, but not once did anybody mention it. We never mentioned defeat, for through all the tight games leading up to the final, we developed a bond of comradeship and a special sense of pride in ourselves, our Club and each other. It looked hopeless, but deep down we all still felt that the unexpected could happen.

Well it did, WE WON. We played nine games, and we won every one of them. We created history at the Subiaco-Floreat Cricket Club. But more importantly we showed to a lot of people the talent and ability the youth of the Club possesses.

But above all, we established a special bond, a special comradeship, which has often been lacking at the Club. Together we did the IMPOSSIBLE, and hopefully we will all go on further as individual players in the future.

I personally would like to thank you all for your efforts over the season. Nothing was too much trouble, nothing was ever questioned. You made my job easy. Looking back, no one person won us the flag. All through the season we all did our bit, and there was never a passenger. Individuals didn't win, the TEAM WON, and I have been very proud to have captained such a team.

On behalf of Greg and myself, thanks for the support and the effort throughout the season, but most of all congratulations and well done!
