PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Where did we go wrong? The previous season saw strong performances in Swan Gold League, third in the Club Championship, and participation in the Toyota Cup final. With little change in our playing strength, we somehow lost our way in season 1986/87. It wasn't for the want of trying!

The "darlings" of the season were the third grade. Sound performances during the season were followed up by strong performances in the semi-final against Mt. Lawley and the final against Fremantle. Who will forget "Big Ben's" performance in the semi-final. The opposition bowlers are still shell-shocked. And what can one say to describe the outstanding performance of the 'veteran' and the 'youngster' in the final. Peter Carlstein's well-made 57 runs and Martin Nice's steady 100. Obviously Peter had an influence on Martin's emergence as a player of class in the final. Congratulations to Ross Bolton on his planning for the final, and the team for their ultimate success.

For the other teams, it is back to the drawing board. It is obvious that there is no lack of talent - just a need for greater application on the field and on the training track. Perhaps we all need to look at the formula the thirds developed and the sweet success they enjoyed.

The Club administration continued to function well, but we cannot continue to win the games off the field. Those points don't count.

Thanks to my Vice Presidents, John Wade, Dennis Franks, and Alan Bolton. Their contribution makes it so easy for me to be your President. Thanks to all the other committee members for the individual roles they play, and special mention to John Gillam for his work as Social Chairman - he may not be a "Baby" but he sure is a "Doll"!

Thanks also to Peter Luff of the Perth City Council and his foremen and ground staff. The playing conditions at Floreat Oval have not been better in the last 10 years.

Special mention to the Under 17 group, who made their debut in 1986/87. Kevin Payne and Bob Prince are to be congratulated on their efforts to ensure the Under 17's got started and were competitive.

Thanks to Jim Rule for his work in organising the bar, to all those club members who worked behind the bar, to those lovely ladies - the backbone of the Club - for the afternoon teas, and to Jo-Anne Bolton for the after-game snacks and cleaning up.

The season sees the announced retirement of Peter Carlstein and Graham Stafford. Congratulations to both on successful careers spanning over many, many years. Too many to disclose. We know you will both still be around the Club to offer assistance.

VICE-PRESIDENT'S FUNDING REPORT

The season saw the Court grant Kim Hughes permission to play with the Club. This decision flowed over to allow Terry Alderman and Tom Hogan to play. The Club has given these players unwavering support in their endeavours to overcome the W.A.C.A. Cricket Council ban, and it is pleasing to know that these players have been asked to confirm their availability to attend state training in preparation for the 1987/88 shield season. Naturally, it will be up to those players to prove, by their performances at 'A' Grade level, that they are a worthy selection.

Season 1986/87 also saw the emergence of BHP sponsorship in the form of the Mount Newman League. On behalf of the Club, I acknowledge the support given by BHP, and look forward to a continuing association.

Season 1987/88 could see the introduction of a new Club - Gosnells. We wish them well. No more 'byes' - for which we would be thankful. Some changes in playing conditions and point scoring will prevail, which should lead to a continuing strong W.A.C.A. grade competition. Our Club needs to see that they are at the top of that competition. The challenge is there for all of us to grasp. Are you willing to do that little bit extra?

Ron Burgess.

I am quite pleased with the financial status of the Club as at the conclusion of the 1986/87 cricket season.

On analysis, it is apparent that the bulk of the funding for the Club came through the continued generous support of the Club's various sponsors.

I am personally pleased that our sponsors have continued to renew their sponsorship over the last two seasons, given the level of increased capital expenditure that the Club has undertaken.

It is paramount that to underwrite the continued support that these valuable sponsors give our Club, that the Club, as a whole, perform on the field - in particular the 'A' Grade side.

It is an extremely difficult task to not only attract but maintain sponsorship support if the Club is not seen to be a winning Club.

I believe that the senior players of the Club will have to address this aspect of their approach to the game more fully, to ensure that the Club continues to be successful both on and off the field.

I would like to take the opportunity again to thank Mr Peter Briggs through his 'Settlers Inn' and 'Motor Museum' at York, for his continued generous support of the Club.

At the same time, I would also like to thank the Town & Country W.A. Building Society (Mr Ray Turner); Ray Fitzgerald & Co. (Real Estate Agents - Ray Fitzgerald); Ledge Leasing & Insurance Group (Phil Botsis); the Fortron Group of Companies (Clive Beringer); NZI Securities Western Ltd; West Coast Securities Pty Ltd (Harold Christensen); and Greg Maskiell of the Wembley Physiotherapy and Sports Injury Clinic.

I would also like to thank the Swan Brewery for their continued support of the game of cricket in Western Australia, and, in particular, I applaud their strategic decision to directly sponsor the district cricket clubs who are given the difficult task of continuing to produce first-class cricketers on extremely limited budgets.

During the season a new sponsor was recruited in the form of Corser & Corser, Barristers and Solicitors.

Due to the involvement that the committee had with Kim Hughes' case, a warm friendship developed with Kim's council, Stephen Owen-Conway, Brian Wheatley, and Guy French. This relationship led to their decision to financially support the Club, for which we are most appreciative and regard the gesture most highly under the circumstances.

One should also not overlook the support that the members give the Club, both in terms of finance and player encouragement.

On behalf of the committee and players of the Club, I sincerely appreciate and thank our sponsors and our non-playing members for their support over the past season.

Reference to the income statement for the season indicates a diminished level of earnings provided by fund-raising programmes and W.A.C.A. prize money.

Players need to become more attuned to the fact that as the committee budgets for a season, so each player should, in terms of their own and their team's performance, with the view to a final result at the end of the season both in terms of personal achievement and the financial rewards that then flow on to the Club.

I continue to be critical of the players in their off-field endeavours, and point out, yet again, that you only get back from the Club what you are prepared to personally put into it.

To John Gillam and Craig Lubich and their small band of helpers, I sincerely thank you for your efforts during the season.

The diminished earnings from W.A.C.A. prize money speaks for itself, in that the Club did not perform as well during this season as it has done in the past, except for the victorious efforts of the 3rd Grade side. To Ross Bolton and his players, I extend my congratulations.

In closing, I believe that the Club is financially well-positioned for the 1987/88 season, and I, for one, will be looking for a strong commitment from the players towards success, both on and off the field during that season.

Dennis W. Franks.

VICE-PRESIDENT'S REPORT - PLAYERS

First reaction is disappointment, not in the results as far as the table is concerned, but in the lack of dedication to the principles and requirements of success.

We had prided ourselves in the way we had done the 'tough' things right without relying on pure talent during 1985/86, only to have such results eroded during last year by an insidiously lackadaisical attitude, most certainly not evident during the prior season - perhaps a lesson has been learnt by all involved in administration, in that when such an attitude becomes patently evident in a club, strong, direct and brave confrontation is necessary to ensure that performance does not suffer and that dedicated players are not affected.

Cricket is a team game, the successful requirements being team-work, fellow player respect, and dedication to improvement of performance.

However, it must be remembered that the "X" factor decides cricket matches. I refer to mental preparation, desire, attitude and intensity. You can't 'coach' these things into human beings, however it is these ingredients that make the "difference" between good teams.

We, the administration, will look for them and expect to see them, this - our "must" - year.

J.F. Wade.

SOCIAL REPORT

Social events for the 1986/87 season were aimed at utilising the Clubroom facilities. Dinner after 'A' Grade home games became a regular event, and the turnout on these nights was encouraging. The Ladies Committee did a lot of work ensuring that the food was always good and that everything ran smoothly.

The Christmas dinner and the 'International Beer Night' were the highlights of these events.

A dinner for the ladies held at the La Casetta Restaurant near the end of the season was also well supported, and all who attended had an enjoyable evening.

Only two fund-raising events were held - one in December and one in March. Both nights were billed as "gentlemen's evenings", and the first of these was a great success, with just under 100 guys turning up. Everyone was very enthusiastic for another of these shows and full of suggestions for improving the evening, so another was held. The support from "playing members" of the Club on this night was appalling. We were lucky not to make a loss, but the worst part of all, was all the guys who said they would be turning up and then didn't. It shows a distinct lack of Club spirit and was a slap in the face to all the guys who had helped in setting up the night.

On a brighter note, thanks to all the guys who helped out during the year, especially Alan Bolton and Craig Lubich.

Hopefully things will improve next season.

John Gillam.

COACHING CO-ORDINATOR'S REPORT

Results from the 1986/87 cricket season show that the following was achieved:

- * Third Grade - Premiership
- * Colts - Semi-Final loss
- * First Grade - 9th Position
- * Second Grade - 13th Position
- * Fourth Grade - 10th Position

Congratulations are extended to Ross Bolton and his "Merry" band of third grade players on achieving the ultimate in their grade.

Overall final results were not what were seen as achievable, particularly in light of early season form.

Once again the Club utilised a multi-disciplinary approach to its coaching programme. This included developing technical skills, fitness preparation, advanced fielding techniques, and the introduction of a comprehensive programme in preparing mentally for cricket.

The aim of the psychological component of the coaching programme was to allow players to examine their level of emotional control under a variety of circumstances. Perceived strengths and weaknesses were identified, and each individual player formulated objectives designed to improve areas of weakness.

The initial effects of this programme were obvious in the early stages of the season, and particularly noticeable in the top side, as they combined to produce some of their best cricket for quite some time. Unfortunately this was not to continue in the latter part of the season, when the 'A' Grade side had a real chance of qualifying for the finals.

In retrospect, it appears obvious that a number of players were lulled into a false sense of security as to the actual level of their combined and individual ability. Additionally, the objectives set by the players pre-season became insignificant and neglected after early season success.

I would like to thank those people who assisted me, and, more importantly, the players with this year's coaching programme. David John combined with newcomer Dean Gilles, to design and implement the season's fitness programme. It was apparent that Dean was very quickly accepted in this role, as Jack Cooke was heard to quip after one exhausting session on the training track, "they are all tarred with the same brush".

Johnsy also took on the task of directing traffic with the Colts team. Results this year reflect the rapport that he developed with this side. Thank you to David and Dean.

Peter Panegyres once again assisted players with technical aspects of their game. In particular, Pana contributed to the development of the young fourth grade side. Thanks Pana. Ross Bolton is to be thanked for stepping into the breach as Practice Captain and handling one of the most difficult tasks in the Club.

In addition, the efforts of the Selection Committee and Grade Captains need to be recognised. To Chris Smailes, Graham Stafford, Glen Mitchell, Ross Bolton, and David John, I would like to extend my appreciation for their support, assistance and time that they gave so willingly.

Once again the winter will allow time for reflection on the season's results. I firmly believe that we as a Club are on the right track, provided we can come to 'real' terms with the commitment required while at training and during matches.

David Shilbury.

1ST GRADE REPORT

The first grade side was in a winning position for the first two games of the season, and then were beaten - by the weather.

We scored 282 against North Perth, and, apart from a few minutes play, were washed out the following day.

The following week, we batted first against Perth, scoring 264, and the "heavens opened" on the Sunday.

The end of the season saw North Perth and Perth finish at the foot of the table.

Our next fixture against South Perth was not played due to the "decision makers" at the Shire Council and later at the Cricket Council, for reasons which everyone concerned failed to understand - the less said the better.

From the remaining 11 games, we won 6 and lost 5. However, it would be fair to say that on the whole we played well-below our potential.

Unfortunately only 2 bowlers fired for us this year - Bushy and Lubes - who both toiled well throughout the season, but despite their efforts, it was not enough.

Although he passed 50 six times, English professional, John Morris, did not score a "ton", but still had a very solid season and was a great asset. Andrew Milne and Digby Saunders both turned-in improved seasons, and Andrew, especially, should build on his experiences of this year.

The "Magnificent 7", Greg Fitzgerald, I think, had a good year. His keeping, which was on par with his batting, was excellent. Although he was unaccustomed to batting in the lower order in first grade cricket, Fitz adapted very well and turned in some magnificent performances. However, I think Fitz should not lose his sights on an opening spot in order to find a greater opportunity to reveal his talents.

Lubes also chipped-in with some useful knocks and probably deserves greater credit.

Haydn Chrystal, although arriving fresh from Europe after Christmas, again showed us that his talent is "top drawer" material, and he should be looking to score heavily next year, given a proper build-up.

Even though he got a job in the Bank, David Reed managed to return to the 'land of the living' and, like two seasons ago, his determination and resolve resulted in an extremely consistent season. Keep going Dave.

Along with the rest of the Club, the "A" Grade side wishes Terry and Kim the best of luck in their preparation for a return to top level cricket. We (selfishly) hope that they can assist Subi-Floreat in making a number of opposition sides suffer before they escalate to higher ranks.

David Shilbury, our coaching co-ordinator for the past two years, has worked in a dedicated manner for players to achieve maximum performance, and on behalf of all players in the Club, I thank David for his contribution.

I thank my team mates for their support for the last two years - quite simply, they were a great bunch of blokes and although I have always enjoyed my cricket, the last two years have been the best.

I also thank the "home and away" crew, Ron Burgess, Alan Bolton, Dennis Franks, and John Wade for their encouragement.

Thanks also to "Leesy", the holder of the valuables (how did he buy that house in Peppi-Grove?!) for another year at the book and his endless chewies.

Chris Smailes,
CAPTAIN.

2ND GRADE REPORT

Once again the seconds failed to live up to their pre-season expectations. In a full season, we were restricted to only three victories.

In the early games we fielded a very young side, with nine players either 22 years of age or younger. Although this represented a young side age-wise, players such as Nick Rule, David Reed, Jeff Collen and Richard Hudson had been around the grades for several seasons. The experience was primarily provided by the Captain, Graham Stafford.

Although the team performance for the season was poor, there were some individual performances that are worthy of mention.

On the batting side, David Reed dominated the games in which he played. David had only five innings during the season, which resulted in scores of 6 n.o., 87, 52, 57 and 67.

A newcomer to the Club this season was 17 year old Stuart Page, who arrived from Narrogin via Hale School. Stuart began the season batting at number 10, but was soon promoted to open. He finished the season with 335 runs at 37.22, with a highest score of 77 against Nedlands. In addition, Stuart impressed everybody with his 'keeping'

Michael Lloyd was a consistent performer, with 260 runs at 23.64, but unfortunately he failed to capitalise on many good starts. Good support was offered at different times by Duncan MacNish, Peter Farley, Glyn O'Brien and Glenn Mitchell.

In the bowling department, Steve Neilsen was consistent throughout the season, taking 19 wickets at 17.79, including match figures of 8 for 87 v Fremantle. Steve was supported by Nigel Clements (14 at 23.50), Bruce Palmer (15 at 28.13), Richard Hudson (16 at 28.94) and Duncan MacNish (10 at 29.40). It would be fair to say, however, that all bowlers were well below their best.

With four games to go in the season, Graham Stafford stood down as Captain, as this was to be his last season. On behalf of all the seconds - Graham, thank you for your guidance and leadership over the past seasons, and we hope to see you again in the future. Enjoy your retirement.

Finally, although we were not competitive at all times, I do believe that we possess the ability to succeed. At times we surrendered too easily. If we all come out next season with a tougher approach and a greater desire to win, we should fulfill 1987-88 finals.

Glenn Mitchell.

3RD GRADE REPORT

"PREMIERS" 1986/87

The 1986/87 season always promised so much for a very talented third grade side. To win the premiership was the ultimate and a well deserved achievement for a group who worked hard towards a final goal. Nothing less than a premiership would have been acceptable, as this side was outstanding in most facets of the game. The only team that stood in our way was Fremantle, who for the second year in a row had gone through the season undefeated. The "show-down" between the two sides was a fitting finale to the season.

The grand final was an excellent game of cricket, with Subi-Floreat having been sent in to bat, scoring 9 for 276, with Martin Nice top scoring with a magnificent 100. Peter Carlstein played a superb innings of 57, with John Fitzgerald an excellent 23 as an opener, Ben Ward 22, Ross Bolton 20, and Steve Wright 15 - all contributing in the top order to a large score.

Fremantle also began well, and at 1-102 at lunch the game had swung their way, but with some excellent bowling from Glyn O'Brien (4 for 20), Steve Wright (3 for 47) and Paul Hampton (3 for 53), Subi-Floreat gradually got on top, to dismiss Fremantle for 236.

A major part of this side's success was the balance of experience of players combining with some extremely talented young players.

Ross Bolton, Peter Carlstein, John Fitzgerald, and Graham Tate provided the experience for most of the year, with Graham Stafford and Steve Wright adding to the experience later in the year. The young brigade consisted of players such as Martin Nice, Ben Ward, Paul Hampton, John Gillam, Glyn O'Brien, Jeff Collen and Paul Craven.

Two players who played third's early in the season and due to excellent performances spent the rest of the year in second's, must also be mentioned. Both Nigel Clements and Peter Farley would have loved to have been part of the premiership team.

There were a number of memorable performances during the year that deserve mention. Whilst most of these performances came with the bat, the bowlers were responsible for bowling excellent line and length for most of the season. Nigel Clements, who had an excellent season, both in third's and then in second's, bowled extremely well in the early third grade games, along with John Gillam, who continues to improve, bowling superbly in the finals. Graham Tate bowled very well on most occasions, whilst both Paul Hampton and Ben Ward bowled some superb spells during the year. Paul's return to form during the finals was 'just' reward for some very hard work during the year. Glyn O'Brien's bowling in the finals deserves special mention, having taken 6 wickets for 59 runs in the two finals. Steve Wright also bowled a superb spell in the grade final, to put his side in a winning position.

There were many fine performances with the bat - Martin Nice's 100 in a grand final will always be remembered. Peter Farley's 114 in a 45 over game was a masterly innings, Glyn O'Brien's 77 not out v's Scarborough single-handedly won the game. Ben Ward was responsible for a number of swashbuckling innings during the year, and his 70 in 54 minutes in the semi-final was a match winning effort. Ben's 89 v's Melville and 90 v's Clare-Cott are also worthy of mention, as both were brilliant innings.

The side made consistent large scores during the year, mainly due to a refreshing approach towards attacking the bowling. Having naturally aggressive players such as Ben Ward, Peter Carlstein and Glyn O'Brien made the task easier for other players during the year. The batting strength of this side is shown in the batting averages, which show 6 players scoring in excess of 300 runs.

As Captain of the third grade team, I would like to thank not only the 12 players listed below, but all players who helped the team during the year. The personal satisfaction in captaining a premiership team is shared not only by myself but also by Peter Carlstein and Graham Stafford, who have the satisfaction of playing in a premiership team in their final game before retiring. I wish them both the very best in their retirement, and pay tribute to their efforts over many years.

Ross Bolton,
CAPTAIN.

THE PREMIERSHIP TEAM:

- S. Wright

FOURTH GRADE REPORT

The 1986/87 cricket season began and ended very well for the Subiaco-Floreat fourths. A wicket with the first ball of the season and a finishing streak of four wins on the trot were the highlights for our side; however, too many close losses somewhat blemished the season.

The 1986/87 season welcomed many new and exciting prospects to the fourth side, including two internationals - Kirk and Mackay-Coghill - two Sherrys (Sweet and Dry); Anthony Flynn; Dean Gillies; Glen Pass and Cory Gill. Each of these players made significant contributions to the side during the year, and I wish them a long and successful association with our Club.

It was, however, the so-called "veterans" of the team who made the most significant contributions during the year. Firstly, the season was highlighted by magnificent innings of 92 by Nick Rule and 81 by Peter Panagyres - each was a highly entertaining knock, indicative of their batsmanship. Unfortunately, the majority of our batsmen lacked consistency during the season (unlike myself who was consistently bad), and this possibly cost us a final's berth. Our two most consistent batsmen were Ian ("no excuses") Taylor and Craig Sherry. Congratulations to you both and I hope the fourths lose you to higher grades next season.

Our outstanding feature for this season was undoubtedly the efforts of our bowlers, who bowled superbly all year. The fourths' bowling talent was led by spinning maestro Cullinane, and included Gillies, Craven, Gill, Kirk, Taylor and Panagyres. Thanks to you all for never arguing when taken off, taking criticism so well, never complaining, never abusing yourself, and never sledging a team-mate following a dropped catch.

Talking about great catches, this season had two highlights. Firstly, Taylor's fumble at square-leg against Wanneroo, and then Shilbury's miss at long-on. More sincerely, the "Catch of the Year" was undoubtedly taken at Wanneroo, when a mustached Greek limped 40 metres around the boundary and held a catch in out-stretched hands. Well done Pana!

I would like to thank very much the team for its support during the season, especially Glen Pass and Peter Panagyres, whose advice was invaluable, and I hope the next season brings the team, the Club, and all of you, good cricketing fortune.

David John,
CAPTAIN.

COLTS REPORT 1986/87

The past season in Colts produced some mixed results for a very talented side. After winning all but one of the seven qualifying games, we were unfortunately beaten by a very good Melville combination, which included several regular 'A' Grade players, in the semi-final. This should not, however, overshadow the many good aspects of the Colts' season.

The team, which I'm sure will produce the nucleus of many fine Subiaco-Floreat 'A' Grade sides of the future, showed tremendous spirit and fight at all times. The way the team worked together all goes well for the future of the Club.

Nineteen players represented the Club at Colts' level in the past season, showing good depth of talent at the Club. Past skipper, Duncan MacNish, led the way with both bat and ball all year in the Colts, averaging 45 with the bat and conceding less than 3 runs an over with his leg spin (?) bowling. Duncan scored one 80 and two 60's in his slot as opener, and it was great to see him make the 'A' Grade side near the end of the season. Several of the team still have a few more years in the Colts, and with the likes of 'Stuee' Page, Martin Nice, and Paul 'Hambo' Hampton with three more years in Colts, a premiership may not be far away.

In the bowling department, we always managed to restrict or bowl out opposing sides on what were usually very good batting wickets. This was due in no small way to our two 'veteran' quicks - Steve 'The Refrigerator' Neilsen, and Johnny 'Traffic Lights' Gillam. These two are always fierce competitors, and this was instilled in all the other team members. Steve and Johnny bowled several very good spells when it really counted, and I was always glad to have them on my side. Their drinking off the field was almost as fierce as their on-field behaviour, and many closely fought "subbie races" after a good win ended in some controversy. John actually led the side in a few games whilst I was in the country (?), and I thank him for his efforts.

Also, I'd like to thank David Johns for his efforts as team coach throughout the season. He was usually a little worse for wear on a Sunday morning, but he always made it some time before 11.00a.m. Jeff Collen (when you go out with him you have a good time!) was my vice-captain for the year. Jeff, better known as 'carafe skuller' or 'Wygown' to his friends, played several useful innings to guide us home when batting second, and ended the season with a 32 run per innings average. His fielding was often an inspiration to us all, and I feel next season will be a good one for him if they hide the carafes down at the Club!!

In closing, I considered the 1986/87 season to be a successful one for the Colts, because we enjoyed our cricket and played to the best of our ability. Thanks, too, must go to our loyal band of supporters and players, especially Johnsy, Dean Gillies, Arnie, Leroy "is that over yet" Browne, and Dawso (top catch in the semi-final). A special thanks must also go to Mr Nice for scoring and helping out all year.

David Reed.

VETERANS REPORT

A very successful and enjoyable season came to an end with a full series of six matches played against other W.A.C.A. Clubs, climaxing with the now to be annual event of the Subiaco Veterans playing the Floreat Veterans. Some new "old" players were welcomed back, including Brian Gardiner, Harry Kuhaupt, Terry Richardson, Ray Wheeler, Lionel Duncan, and Ray Elliot, all of whom we hope will play on a more regular basis next season.

We still, unfortunately, suffer the last minute pull-outs, but only the first match against Southern Districts was seriously affected when we started with just eight players and after rapid phone calls, had ten players midway through this fielding session.

Results of games and performances were:-

A memorable day, the final game, and we do hope it will continue in the future, with more veterans taking an active part in the Club, and we all look forward to next season.

R. Tredget.

Season 1986/87 was a mixture of disappointment and some limited success.

The age limit for the Kanga Cricket programme was raised to U/11, as advised in the 1985/86 report, and the programme continued under the guidance of John Banks and Geoff Plant. Players participating in the W.A.C.A. matches again appreciated the opportunity to play at the home of W.A. cricket. The presentation of certificates to players at the conclusion of these matches, by senior representative cricketers, was an additional highlight.

Changes in age limits for the W.A.C.A. under-age competitions through 1986/87 and the introduction of the U/17 senior grade provided some new opportunities.

With the Inverarity Shield Competition being raised to U/13, experience gained through 1985/86 at U/12 level proved invaluable. Andy Pudovskis and Peter Lyndon were again responsible for this team, which won 2 of the 3 matches played. The only loss was in the first game against Wanneroo, the eventual winners of the Shield. An exciting win was recorded in a high scoring game against Midland-Guildford at Lilac Hill, and Mt. Lawley were beaten convincingly in a low scoring game at Haig Park. Thanks and congratulations to all concerned.

A disappointment in regard to the Inverarity Shield team, was, however, their inability to have a match on home turf. It is hoped that this situation can be rectified.

An U/15 competition replaced the previous U/14's. Despite the great contribution of Richard Hudson in coaching, and Chris Beattie as manager, this team was unable to develop into a force in competition. Some steady individual performances were registered, but no player was outstandingly consistent. A late season highlight was, however, Jason Newall's selection in the WACA - FAI U/16 fast bowling development squad.

An U/16 competition was retained. This team promised to be extremely competitive in light of previous season performances of potential players, but this was not to be. Pre-season loss of players for various reasons, including injury, was a major factor; but failure to grasp opportunity and knuckle down to work hard when the going got tough was also important in determining how the team did perform through the season and how some boys did not develop their own game. Several players did, however, put in the required effort. This application was generally reflected in performance.

Tom Sharkey gained selection in the WACA - FAI U/19 fast bowling development squad after trials at the end of the season.

Kevin Payne and Sue Shaw helped with management of this team. Their efforts were greatly appreciated.

Co-ordination of the U/17 squad was focused through the junior organization, but players able and available to play in the higher grade teams for the Club were included in those teams.

As far as continuing development of junior cricketers is concerned, this new U/17 competition is rated highly. Andrew Milne did a sterling job at coaching, and the level of support for the team off-field at games provided an example matched only by the Inverarity Shield team.

Local Competitions

The usual local competitions continued without change of age limits, i.e. U/12, U/14, U/16.

Competition winners were:-

- U/16 CITY BEACH d WEMBLEY DOWNS
- U/14 CLAREMONT- d MARIST BLACK COTTESLOE
- U/12 MARIST (2) d WEMBLEY DOWNS

Thanks to all involved in maintaining those local competitions, and to parents encouraging their children to play at whatever level.

R. Prince,
Chairman, Junior Council.

DISTRICT UNDER-17 REPORT

In terms of 'on the field' success, the Under 17's finished about 8th on the table. In other words, we lost more matches than we won. This situation could have been completely different if the team had won two or three close matches in the middle of the season; games they should have won. This could have meant a place in the four.

At the start of the season we had trouble in making numbers, and it was largely due to the efforts of Bob Prince, Bill McIntosh and Kevin Payne that we had eleven players every week. In fact, these gentlemen were the on-field coaching staff for at least one third of the season while I was involved in the Toyota One-Day Competition on Sundays. For this, I am very grateful.

Apart from the above-mentioned, we always had a large contingent of parental support, which, in my experience, is rare at this age of 'under-age' sport. This made the role of coaching more significant to me, and at the same time affected the attitude of the boys on the field in a very positive way. Indeed, their moral support of players and coach was tremendous. It took me a long time to realize that afternoon tea, drinks, scoring and other organizational tasks had been carried out behind the scenes with a minimum of fuss by the parents. I was left to do the coaching, when I was there!

The group of players involved with the U/17's was tremendous. My initial apprehension about coaching possible 'renegade' teenagers was quickly dispelled when I realized the players were already a very close-knit group of friends who were eager to find out what playing 85 overs a day was like. The U/17 season was shorter than the regular season, so the boys made up for this by turning their matches into situations where each side had two innings! They finally got it right in the last game, where we batted all the overs and made over 300; an excellent result for an 'under-age' side.

It goes without saying that we had a lot of fun during the season. This sense of fun was useful in keeping the boys relaxed while playing (for example, not always worrying about the ball that will get you out, but staying positive) and yet working very hard at the same time. It was pleasing in this light that 'characters' of the side, such as Trevor "Hercules" Davis, Nigel "Hero" Shepherd, and Tony "Sweetpea" Yong, to name a few, could indulge in fun and yet contribute much in determination on the field. This was illustrated when Nigel Shepherd, the resident No.11 bat, actually top scored with twenty-odd during one of our second innings.

I would like to thank the players and parents involved for what I consider an invaluable experience for myself. I wish the boys luck in all their pursuits, both sporting and career.

Andrew Milne,
Coach.
